

The Presbyter

November 2016

The First Presbyterian Church of Clarks Summit

How do we say thanks?

Thanksgiving and the Christian Life

It was John Calvin, the patron saint of Presbyterians, who declared that “gratitude is the central virtue of the Christian life.” In no way was he downplaying faith, hope, and love. But he was affirming that our faith, hope, and love are always based in our gratitude for God’s work in Jesus Christ.

November is our gratitude month at First Presbyterian Church. Through the month, we will express our thanks to God for the good work that is done among our community of faith. We will reflect together on the legacies of our lives that are still in progress, hear stories of the generous sacrifices of those who make life possible for others, and celebrate the bounty of God’s generosity. It will be a rich and vital month, and we will be looking for you on Sunday mornings for worship.

And we will share what we have with those around us. On November 20, we make two significant offerings: our annual special offering to support the Norton Fund for local friends who find themselves in need, and an offering of song in an afternoon choral concert with our friends from Our Lady of Snows. Please make every effort to take part.

Calling All Keys:

We're looking for church keys that aren't being used anymore.

Are you the chairperson of a session committee, deacons, or other ongoing program?

If you answered no to this question, would you please return the church key in your possession.

Somewhere along the way, keys did not get passed from one chairperson to another, and now many of our chairpersons don't have a key to gain admittance to the building to conduct meetings.

Thank you for your help!

Dear Friends,

In our September newsletter, I wrote about one of the three all-congregational goals that our Session has set for the next few years. The first goal, "Loving Our Neighbors," was exemplified in our Worship Through Service weekend at the end of September.

Here is our second goal:

- Well-Being -- To develop ministries and programs that enhance the spiritual, physical, relational, environmental "fitness" of our congregation and community.

So what is this about? Calisthenics before the sermon? Perhaps this might help, but I suggest something much larger is afoot. "Well-Being" is a comprehensive term. It is much larger than physical health, although it certainly includes that. It is much wider than an absence of conflict, although most of us desire that, too. "Well-Being" is a contemporary expression of the Hebrew word for "salvation." As scholar Wayne Ward writes, "Salvation has always involved the total needs of human beings and is not restricted to a concern about their eternal destiny... (it is) a transformation of life, here and now, and a fulfillment of that life in eternal fellowship with God."

Jesus came to preach and heal. He proclaimed the Good News of God's rule over all of life, and showed that rule by healing the bodies, minds, and hearts of human beings. There was no need too small, nor any need too enormous that he could not address it. Similarly he commissioned his followers to preach and heal.

What would a comprehensive "program" of salvation look like in the Church on the Hill? A lot of things, I suppose. Here is a suggestive list:

- Healthy congregational meals (with recipes!)
- Hikes in the woods with Christian friends
- Blood pressure screenings during coffee hour
- Sermons that address the deepest human needs
- Workshops on how to address and resolve conflict
- Opportunities to build friendships in our midst
- Bicycle rides when the weather is favorable
- Tips for reducing our environmental footprint
- Occasions for group prayer, meditation, reflection, and restorative silence
- Classes on enhancing relationship skills
- Training sessions to build emotional resiliency (ability to "bounce back") and resist illness
- Liturgies of healing, forgiveness, and reconciliation

All of this is included in God's rule over our lives, and none of it is insignificant. And if you would like to help us put together a plan, please get in touch with me! Our lives are too precious in God's sight for us to carry unnecessary burdens or preventable dis-ease.

With you in the journey,

Rev. Bill Carter

MISSION AND JUSTICE

Peace & Global Witness Offering

We are thankful to announce that our congregation contributed $906 for the Peace and Global Witness offering. 25% of that amount will be given to the Catherine McAuley Center in Scranton to connect with the global witness of Christ's peace. 25% will link congregations in ministries of peace and reconciliation throughout presbyteries and synods, and 50 % will be used to advocate for Christ's peace through education in cultures of violence. Thank you for your generosity.

Worship Through Service

Thank you to all who enthusiastically participated in Worship Through Service Day. Your love, joy, and faith was spread throughout our community, and the community celebrated. We have received beautiful notes from those we served, expressing their gratitude and appreciation. We met our goal, lived our faith, touched hearts, and spread peace. Well done.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

Our Women's Bible Studies are learning about "Who is Jesus?" through different lenses.

Our first lesson saw Jesus through the lens of Mark as our Suffering Savior. Our second lesson saw Jesus through the lens of Matthew as our long-awaited Jewish Messiah that had come. This month we will look at Jesus through the lens of Luke as the prophet of God, rejected by his own, who turns the world upside down with his teachings.

All women are invited to join us at the church at 10:00 a.m., 1:30 p.m. or 7:00 p.m. on November 15. Looking forward to seeing you there.

BLESSINGS JAR

Thanksgiving reminds us of our many gifts from God. Count your blessings all month long with this craft.

What you need:

- Jar
- Ribbon
- Scissors
- Glue
- 3 sheets of paper (different colors)
- Marker or pen

What you do:

1. Measure and cut enough ribbon to wrap around the jar's neck, below the lid. Glue in place and let dry.
2. Fold each piece of paper in half three times, resulting in eight rectangles per sheet. Cut along the fold lines, and you'll have 24 rectangles.
3. Each day in November until Thanksgiving, write down one blessing from God. Then place that blessing in the jar.
4. On Thanksgiving, open the jar and read all your blessings to your family and friends.

Blessings from the Lord

Throughout the Bible, God blesses his chosen people. How can we receive these gifts?

Adventures in the Bible

We meet a week early in November because of Thanksgiving. We will gather at Marie Cochrane's home at 7:00 on November 17th to discuss:

The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry by Gabrielle Zevin. In this sweet, uplifting homage to bookstores, Zevin perfectly captures the joy of connecting people and books. A. J. Fikry, the cantankerous owner of Island Books, is despondent after losing his beloved wife and witnessing the ever-declining number of sales at his small, quirky bookstore. In short order, he loses all patience with the new Knightly Press sales rep, his prized rare edition of Tamerlane is stolen, and someone leaves a baby at his store. That baby immediately steals A. J.'s heart and unleashes a dramatic transformation. Suddenly, the picture-book section is overflowing with new titles, and the bookstore becomes home to a burgeoning number of book clubs. With business on the uptick and love in his heart, A. J. finds himself becoming an essential new part of his longtime community, going so far as to woo the aforementioned sales rep (who loves drinking Queequeg cocktails at the Pequod Restaurant). Filled with interesting characters, a deep knowledge of bookselling, wonderful critiques of classic titles, and very funny depictions of book clubs and author events, this will prove irresistible to book lovers everywhere.

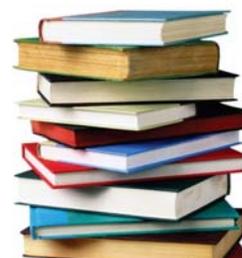

The Stephen Ministry logo tells a story—the story of a care receiver's journey from brokenness toward wholeness through the cross of Jesus. It is a journey made possible by "Christ caring for people through people," which is the Stephen Ministry motto.

The Christian Education and Growth Committee will again be working with The Scranton-Lackawanna Human Development Agency by providing Pajamas again to several HeadStart centers for the Holidays. More information will be forthcoming in the weekly bulletins.
